Title:	Duncan Parking as a Case Study in Avoiding DOE Infringement, Leveraging Claim Construction and Joint Inventorship at the PTAB and in Federal Court
Description:	Panitch attorneys Phil Hirschhorn and Aaron Pereira use the Federal Circuit's 2019 decision in Duncan Parking Techs. v. IPS Group as a vehicle to discuss established and emerging patent law issues in joint inventorship, doctrine of equivalents infringement, claim construction, and case management strategies. While the Duncan Parking decision itself did not make new law, the procedural history and appellate record, which consolidated cases from federal district court and the PTAB, serves as an excellent starting point to discuss litigation strategies and best practices for leveraging the factual and legal issues that play out in parallel proceedings in district court and at the PTO, in light of the varying levels of deference on appeal..
